1. Which is the most natural question? "________ any thing tonight?"
   a) Are you doing
   b) Will you do
   c) Do you do
   d) Would you like to do

2. And the most natural answer? "Sorry, __________ my hair."
   a) I'm washing
   b) I will wash
   c) I wash
   d) I washed

3. Fill in the gap. "Do you want to come and see a film? We ________ outside school at 7."
   a) meet
   b) will meet
   c) 're meeting
   d) met

4. Which is the most natural question? "I might meet you at the cinema, what time ___________?"
   a) is the film starting
   b) will the film start
   c) does the film start
   d) did the film start

5. Which is the most natural future form? "If you're not there, I ________ you a bell on your mobile."
   a) 'm going to give
   b) give
   c) gave
   d) 'll give

6. Which is the most natural question? "What ________ we have for dinner?"
   a) will
   b) do
   c) shall
   d) are
ANSWERS:

1. Which is the most natural question? "_________ anything tonight?"
   a) Are you doing – Correct. Use the present continuous tense to ask a question about someone's future plans or arrangements.
   b) Will you do – Ask questions with 'will' if you are asking about a future fact.
   c) Do you do – Use the present simple to ask about a schedule. e.g. What time does the film start?
   d) Would you like to do – "Would you like to do..." is also possible, but we usually use 'something' with this question.

2. And the most natural answer? "Sorry, __________ my hair."
   a) I'm washing – Correct. Use the present continuous tense to talk about future plans or arrangements.
   b) I will wash – Use 'will' if you are talking about a future fact.
   c) I wash – Use the present simple to talk about a schedule. e.g. The film starts in 5 minutes!
   d) I washed – "I washed my hair" is the past tense.

3. Fill in the gap. "Do you want to come and see a film? We ______ outside school at 7."
   a) meet – Use the present simple to talk about a schedule. e.g. The film starts in 5 minutes!
   b) will meet – Use will if you are talking about a future fact.
   c) 're meeting – Correct. Use the present continuous tense to talk about future plans or arrangements.
   d) met – 'Met' is the past tense.

4. Which is the most natural question? "I might meet you at the cinema, what time __________?"
   a) is the film starting – Use the present continuous tense to talk about future plans or arrangements.
   b) will the film start – Use will if you are talking about a future fact.
   c) does the film start – Correct. Use the present simple to talk about a schedule. e.g. The flight takes just over an hour.
   d) did the film start – "...did the film start?" is the past tense.

5. Which is the most natural future form? "If you're not there, I ______ you a bell on your mobile."
   a) 'm going to give – Use 'going to' to talk about something you have decided to do, e.g. "I'm going to make some tea. Do you want a cup?"
   b) give – Use the present simple to talk about a schedule e.g. What time does your train get in?
   c) gave – 'Gave' is the past tense.
   d) 'll give – Correct. We use 'will' when we make an instant decision.

6. Which is the most natural question? "What ______ we have for dinner?"
   a) will – If you ask someone's opinion, and use 'we' or 'T', you can use 'shall'.
   b) do – Use the present simple to talk about a schedule. e.g. What time does your train get in?
   c) shall – Correct. If you ask someone's opinion, and use 'we' or 'T', you can use 'shall'.
   d) are – 'Are' is not correct. You could say "What are we having for dinner?" but not "What are we have for dinner?"
You can try this quiz online at:
http://www.bbc.co.uk/apps/ifl/worldservice/quiznet/quizengine?ContentType=text/html;quiz=1621_futures